

fall detector

The fall detector is worn on the belt or holster and monitors for falls. Using an intelligent two stage detection process the fall detector can identify a genuine fall. Alternately the user can manually activate the fall detector by pressing the large button on the front. The detector then registers an emergency and sends an alarm call to the response centre.

All the assurance you need

Tunstall