Title: Caring with packages

Tunstall, the world's leading provider of telecare and telehealth solutions is now providing pre packaged complete care solutions for older people and people with special and long term needs.

The complete care solutions are conveniently packaged to offer greater independence and reassurance for specific concerns such as falls, bathroom safety, safety while alone and more.

Tunstall offers basic and advanced falls detection packages for people who are prone to falling during the day and people who have an increased risk of falling at night.

These packages ensure that if a client does fall that it will be detected within moments, reducing the risk of their fall remaining undetected for hours or even days.

Similarly, the bathroom safety package provides alarm buttons in the toilet and bathroom so the client can notify Tunstall's 24 hour response centre if they slip or fall or require other assistance.

Tunstall's home alone package provides an alarm button by the front door, allowing a client to subtly activate an alarm call if they feel unsure about the intentions of the person at the front door. This allows help to be sought for the client to prevent any potential safety threats.
